Dysart to provide store front office for use by OPP

The Ontario Provincial Police will be given the use of a storefront office on Haliburton's main street beginning in February.

Dysart et al reeve Murray Fearrey said Tuesday that council has agreed to rent an office on the Steinburg property for use by the OPP. The office will not be staffed on a regular basis, but will be available for use by officers on regular patrol duty in the Haliburton area.

The concept has received the backing of detachment commander sergeant Bill Bailey, the reeve said.

Main purpose of the storefront operation is to build a better relationship between force members and the general public, and to increase the OPP's visibility in the community, Fearrey said.

Dysart et al council is also committed to providing facilities for a sub detachment in the community should such a detachment become feasible in the future.

Members of county council are expected to meet with Ontario's attorney general Roy McMurtry in late February or early March to discuss the county's efforts to secure a manpower increase for the local detachment that would allow 24 hour patrols to be implimented.

Haliburton's first New Year's baby finally arrived early last Thursday morning. Lisa and Lynn Forsyth of Minden are the proud parents of Laura, who weighed in at six pound even. Her sister Wendy was awaiting her arrival at home.

Walls leak because caulking not completed

Museum walls frosty, builder blames heaters

Claiming too little heat had been pumped into the shell of the Minden cultural centre, builder Ron Wrightman told Anson, Hindon and Minden council that proper thermostats had not been installed in the building.

Wrightman had been requested to attend last Wednesday's regular council meeting to explain problems that have cropped up at the new log cultural centre, including leaking and frost on interior walls.

Wrightman said the leaks occurred because spaces between the logs and at the corners have not yet been caulked. Wrightman said extreme temperatures experienced in the past month have made it impossible to complete the work.

While Wrightman admitted there was frost on the inside walls he said he had contacted the cultural centre committee to make sure the heat was turned on in stages and that the doors were opened everyday to air the building and let it dry out.

However, Wrightman said he didn't blame the committee if they hadn't opened the doors everyday when it was 40 degrees below zero.

But, he said, the building would still have to be allowed to heat up to draw the moisture out of the logs and the doors would have to be opened to let the moisture-laden air out of the building.

He noted that the cement pad had not even started to sweat yet so the building wasn't starting to dry out.

"There hasn't been enough heat in there," Wrightman said.

Wrightman assured council that if it granted him an extension into February to have some of the work completed, it would be done properly.

"What you're saying then is, you'll guarantee it won't leak when you're done," reeve Lloyd Walker asked Wrightman.

The contractor agreed that was what he was saying.

However, Wrightman said he was concerned that the heaters in the building were not the type specified on the plan. He told council that each heater had its own thermostatic control which can make a difference of eight degrees Fahrenheit, between when the heater kicks out and when it starts to heat again.

On the plans, Wrightman said, each room was to have its own thermostatic control

County road workers still negotiating

Councils, board, CUPE settle

Members of the Canadian Union of Public Employees have signed memorandums of agreement with three public bodies in Haliburton County.

An agreement between Dysart et al council and its road workers awaits ratification by council at its February meeting. While details of the settlement will not be made available until ratification, reeve Murray Fearrey said the settlement would give the workers increases of about 14 per cent over a one-year contract.

Agreement has also been reached between county council and CUPE workers at Hyland Crest senior citizens home. Details of that agreement will be made public today (Wednesday) when the settlement is ratified by county council.

The Haliburton County Board of Education has also reached an agreement with its CUPE employees, and ratification is expected to come at the board's regular meeting next Tuesday.

The only agreement still to be negotiated is between county council and its road workers. As yet there is no indication of when bargaining will be concluded.

Parachute jumpers hit lines, council worried about safety

The Parachute School of Toronto will have to answer a number of questions about safety if it hopes to run its school at the Stanhope airport next summer.

Council was told last Wednesday that its airport committee is concerned about potentially hazardous conditions around the airport and the dangers they pose to inexperienced jumpers.

At least two jumpers landed in electric wires near the airport last summer when wind currents and an inability to precisely control the direction of their descent combined to take the jumpers beyond the airfield target zone.

Neither jumper was injured, but council was told that the pair might have been electrocuted had humidity been higher at the time.

Water and trees near the jump zone are also potential hazards, although beginning jumpers wear inflatable life vests to deal with the first problems and are taught landing techniques to minimize the dangers posed by the second.

Council signed a 10-year contract with the school last year with the stipulation that appropriate safety rules must be observed. The school was also required to have liability insurance and deposit a copy of the policy in the township office, but clerk Gerald Bain told council the copy had not been received.

So far there has been no indication whether the school will operate next summer, council learned. The school hoped to attract at least 60 students at Stanhope, but only 17 took the course last summer.

Owner asks Stanhope council for tax exemption

Canoe museum may have to close

The Kanawa Canoe Museum, the only one of its kind in the world, may be forced to close or move from Stanhope Township unless it is exempted from property taxes, its owner has told Stanhope Township council.

Kirk Whipper, in a letter to council, said the facility should be exempt from taxation because it is a chartered museum, attracts tourists to the area, operates at a loss, is partially supported by grants from a number of government agencies, and creates local employment.

But clerk Gerald Bain told council that because the museum remains privately owned, it is classed as a private enterprise under the terms of the Assessment Act, and is therefore subject to property taxation.

In 1979, taxes on the museum, located adjacent to Camp Kandalore south of Ox Narrows, totalled $1,318. Taxes for 1980 would be slightly higher, Bain said.

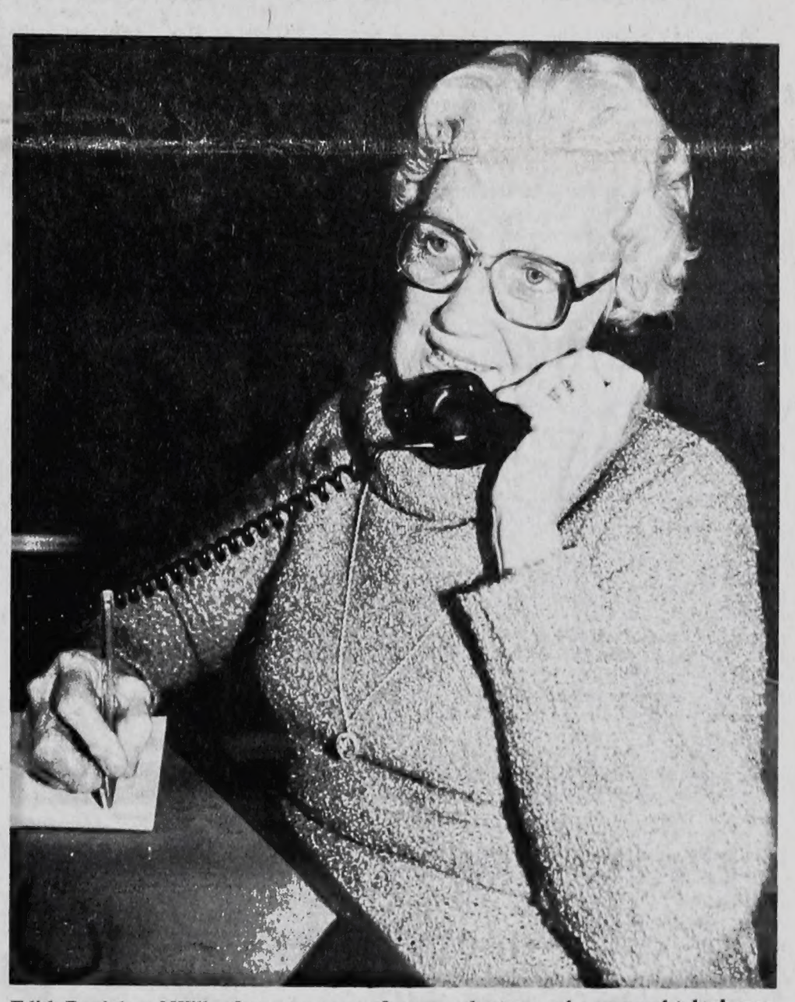
In his letter to council, Whipper said he has used his personal savings to keep the museum operating in recent years, but that he cannot continue to do so. He estimated losses in recent years at more than $20,000.

A number of options open to council and Whipper were discussed in response to the letter. Council could agree to return the taxes in the form of a grant and the museum would remain privately owned. So far, however, council has refused to do so, feeling that it might open the door for other tourist related township businesses which also showed a loss to seek tax exemptions.

A second option is for Whipper to deed the museum to the township in trust. He could continue to operate it, but it would become public property and would thus be exempt from taxation under the Assessment Act.

A third option is for Whipper to deed the museum to the provincial or federal government, which would also result in tax exempt status.

Council took no action on the matter at its meeting last Wednesday, but agreed to invite Whipper to its February meeting in an attempt to resolve the problem.



Edith Daniels, of Wilberforce, was one of many volunteers who manned telephones throughout the weekend as part of the weekend with The Stars Telethon for cerebral palsy. Almost $2,500 was raised locally.

Stove ignites wall, firefighters douse flames but loss extensive

Although Glamorgan Township firefighters were able to bring a fire under control soon after arriving on the scene last Tuesday, a house was extensively damaged by fire and smoke, according to the fire chief.

The house, belonging to Walter Riel, received burn damage to the kitchen, bathroom, hall, the second storey floor and one upstairs bedroom as well as severe heat and smoke damage to the rest of the house, chief Howard Hillis said.

"They can't live in it...I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the insurance company called it an almost total loss," Hillis said.

The fire started when a Franklin fireplace ignited a nearby flammable wall, Hillis said. The fireplace had been improperly installed too close to the wall, he said.

The fire department received the call around 8 p.m. last Tuesday and rushed to the Riel home. When the men arrived the fire was underway but they were able to contain it quickly, Hillis said.

He noted the fire department was able to get to the house easily as all roads and the driveway were clear.

Bundle up and head for Minden's carnival

Pull on your mittens and grab your scarf and hat and get ready to participate in all the fun and exciting winter events at the annual Minden Kinsmen Winter Carnival.

With plenty of snow (and hopefully good weather) this year's carnival could well be the time of your life.

All the traditional entertaining events will fill the three days from January 30 to February 1, and a few new and exciting attractions will add a dash of interest and uniqueness to the carnival days.

The fun starts early Friday evening when the curling bonspiel kicks off in the new curling club, adjacent to the arena. The new building should add a touch of class to the carnival as well as making curling and watching thoroughly enjoyable. The bonspiel starts at 6 p.m. and carries on throughout the weekend.

In the arena at 7:30 p.m., the Minden figure skating club will be demonstrating the skaters fine skills in precision performances that are a credit to the community.

And at 8 p.m. in the arena, it will be a big moment for two lucky girls when they are chosen as the Carnival queen and junior princess, to reign over all the carnival events. Anyone wishing to have this honour bestowed upon them should contact the Kinsmen club.

The opening ceremonies for the carnival will also be conducted at the same time in the arena.

For the kids who really like to boogie, why not get to the Sock Hop at Archie Stouffer school. The dancing and fun begins at 8 p.m.

Also at 8 p.m. the famous (for fun and frolic) Crow's Nest opens upstairs at the arena with music provided by the always-entertaining disc jockey, Tommy Williamson. The fun continues until 1 a.m. for those who like to make the best of the carnival days.

Bright and early Saturday morning the Minden Monarch Pee Wees will be hosting a hockey tournament with skills that will probably put some of their older fans to shame.

For those early morning risers, the bonspiel is underway once again at 9 a.m. And the days of old may be remembered by many as they travel through the village on a sleigh ride. Rides will be available all day.

One of the big attractions of the carnival has been moved to South Lake this year, with the ice racers providing some excellent entertainment. The action starts at 10 a.m. and continues until 4 p.m. A bus service will travel to the lake from the arena at 11 a.m. and return at 2 p.m.

When the clock strikes noon, the streets of Minden will be lined with spectators as many floats and marching bands filter through the town as part of the giant parade.

And remember, don't eat before you come to the carnival because there will be lots of tongue-tantalizing morsels available everywhere.

Registration for the exciting snowmobile drag races starts at noon and the fun begins once again at the Crow's Nest.

Three days of events

At 1 p.m. the Haliburton county snowmobile association's Snowdeo will test many riders' capabilities at the fairgrounds. So drivers, bring your friends and family and show them your stuff.

For those who might like the chance to enjoy the fantastic scenery that can only be provided on the county's snowmobile trails, why not take part in the snowmobile association's snowmobile safari which leaves from the arena at 1 p.m.

Then, the many skill-testing (and more often than not, hilarious) outdoor events challenge the adventurous among the crowds.

Pole climbing, log sawing, tugs-of-war on ice and many children's events all add to the hilarity of the carnival days.

And inside, for those who might need to warm up a little, why not test your strength at the same time. The ladies and men's arm wrestling is always one of the big events, as acquaintances cheer on their favourite strong-armed friend.

Telethon for cerebral palsy

Local contributions top $2400 mark

Area residents pledged almost $2,500 for celebral palsey during the weekend, as part of the Weekend with the Stars telethon for an international event. Telephones were manned at Wilberfroce Veneer plant to take local contributions which totalled $2,459.30 during the 23 hour telethon.

Roberta Walsh, organizer of the event, said she was surprised at the response to the local call-in number, even though pledges used to mean a long distance phone call in the past.

"It was really a great success...the response from Haliburton and Minden was just great too," Walch said on Monday.

Over 190 pledges were made through the local office from 7 p.m. Saturday to 6 p.m. Sunday, Walsh said.

Volunteers who manned the phones were impressed by the number of pledges coming from small children. One child, in particular, pledged $2.30 which she had earned herself, Walsh said.

Although organizers were hoping the local pledging number would be a success, Walsh said they did not expect the response they got from the area.

"We thought if we raised $1,000 or $1,500 we'd be doing well," she said.

Although the local efforts were successful, Walsh said she was disappointed that CHEV TV in Peterborough were not able to announce all the challenges that were made.

Many individuals in the county had sent out challenges to their acquaintances and competitors but unfortunately the television station was not able to get them on the air, she said.

Throughout the telethon, doughnuts from Linkert's Bakery in Haliburton and coffee from Agnew's store in Wilberforce, helped keep the many volunteers going, especially through the long night hours, Walsh said.

She is hoping for an even better response next year.

Doug Scott, left, explains the differences in the new assessment under section 86 to Dysart taxpayer Lorne Bailey at the Legion on Saturday. Open houses on the new market value assessment were held throughout the county in the past two weeks.

Archie Stouffer school parents take step toward association

The first step to establish home and school programs in all area schools was taken last Thursday night.

At Archie Stouffer public school in Minden, 22 interested people gathered for the first home and school meeting at that school, according to Belinda Brown, one of the organizers.

Brown said it was the first step taken to establish the individual programs since a steering committee was formed at the inaugural county-wide meeting held at the secondary school last year.

Similar meetings are now being scheduled in other schools in the Minden and Haliburton area, but Brown said she has already had requests to start similar programs in the Wilberforce and Gooderham areas.

The home and school program involves parents, teachers and the school to provide better education for the students in the school system, according to Brown.

When the individual groups meet again in their particular schools, after the initial meetings, executives will be chosen to look after the programs, Brown said.

Once the executives are chosen and in working order, Brown said the steering committee will likely dissolve.

The steering committee opted to establish organizations in each school since each one faces different issues in most cases.

"It depends if we have enough interest in each school, then there'll be representation in each school; if some schools don't show any interest then there won't be any (representation)," Brown said.

The next meeting is tentatively set for February 5 at Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School.

Washrooms may be built at Minden fair grounds

Permanent public washrooms may be a new feature at the Haliburton County Fair Grounds if a purchase agreement can be reached by the Minden curling club and the agricultural society.

The curling club has offered to sell a cement block building near the old curling club to the agricultural society for $1,500, agricultural society president, Jerry Pilsworth told Anson, Hindon and Minden council last Wednesday.

However, Pilsworth said the society was not sure if it would be allowed to purchase the building since it stood on municipal property.

"I think you've got as much right to buy it as they have to sell it," councillor Lyle McKnight told Pilsworth. He said the curling club owned the building, which had housed the ice making equipment, because the club had not received money when the municipality purchased the property from the agricultural society.

At present, the agricultural society is in charge of the old curling rink.

Although Pilsworth said it would cost about $6,000 to build a similar building, the society felt the curling club was looking for a donation towards its new rink and the society felt $1,500 was a large donation.

Pilsworth told council that the society would negotiate the matter further with the curling club.

Let's run around together. PARTICIPACTION

Then, if you haven't had a good home-cooked roast beef dinner in a long time and need friendly conversation and surroundings to warm your bones, take a little jaunt up Highway 35 to the Carnarvon United Church and enjoy a delicious meal with all the trimmings. The ladies prepare a meal, that might even be better than mother's, at a reasonable price.

If you've ever wondered what happened to the stars of the '60's head back to the arena and join in the hilarity as the Minden Monarch Old Timers challenge the Ennismore Skyliners who picked up the Canadian "B" championship in 1980.

Entertainment and dancing at the carnival's best will continue until 1 p.m. at the Crow's Nest.

When Sunday morning still finds you bright-eyed and bushy-tailed join the action and fun at the broomball tournament which starts at 8 a.m. at the arena.

For those who like to indulge with a tummy-warming, delicious breakfast on Sunday mornings, run on over to the arena for the pancake breakfast which starts at 9 a.m. For those who might not find themselves bright-eyed and bushy-tailed the breakfast lasts until 11:30 a.m.

At noon, excellent curling will entertain participants and spectators as the finals of the tournament begin.

Also at noon, the snowmobile oval races begin with excitement that may make you cringe. So come on out and cheer your favourite racer on.

And the crowds will still be packing the Crow's Nest when it opens for an afternoon of entertainment at 1:30 p.m. with Bluegrass North providing excellent toe-tapping music.

At 3 p.m. the bonspiel will have ended and the long-sought-after trophy will be presented to the winners.

So remember, pull on your warm boots and take your coat off the rack and bring your true carnival spirit to Minden next weekend, January 30, 31 and February 1.

Woman injured

A Wilberforce woman suffered a broken ankle and wrist when her car collided with the rear of another near Lochlin last Monday morning.

Linda Gail Forbes was taken to Peterborough Civic Hospital after her car slammed into the rear of a car driven by Gregory Arnold Coumbs of RR 2, Bobcaygeon.

Damage to each vehicle was estimated at $1000.

Forbes was charged with following too closely and with failing to wear a seat belt.

Police are on the lookout for the thief who absconded with a pole tent used by Bell Canada workers.

The tent was removed from a pole on Horseshoe Lake Road sometime between January 9 and January 14.

The yellow vinyl tent is valued at $350.

The weather - warmer!

Temperatures began to moderate late last week, bringing the warmest values in more than a month. Highest temperature recorded over the period of January 13 to 19 was -1C while the lowest recorded value was -31C.

A total of 5 cm (2 inches) of snow fell over the week. Snow depths now range up to 86 cm on the ground.

The snow is still light, but a period of rain could create problems for cottage roofs, since accumulations range up to 80 cm or more on many roofs. Those whose roofs could be damaged by a heavy snow load should consider having the snow removed.

Skiing and snowmobile trails remain in good condition. Lake travel is also considered good, with ice depths now ranging up to 12 inches, but slushy conditions persist beneath the top snow cover in many areas.

Museum problems which would make controlling the heat much simpler.

Wrightman said he wanted council to be aware of the discrepancies in heating since the energy saving of the log building might not be as much as estimated earlier if the heat could not be properly controlled.

"It's not the fault of the logs," Wrightman said.

After lunch, however, deputy reeve Doug Pritchard told council he had taken a few minutes to check the thermostats and had found they were just as the specifications had called for -- a thermostat for every room.

"Why would Ron (Wrightman) sit here and tell us that this morning," councillor Ed Pergolas asked.

"I guess the best defence is an offence," he added.

The cultural centre is expected to be completed before summer as plans now stand.

Correction

A story on page three of last week's Echo detailing costs of the new Glamorgan community centre erred in stating that $30,000 had been budgetted for a well to supply the building. The correct figure is $3,000.

And in another story on page three, Mirl S. MacDuff the driver of one of two vehicles involved in a collision on Mountain Street, was incorrectly referred to as "he".

The Echo regrets any confusion the errors may have caused.

Before you give in to temptation and buy a low priced snowmobile, ask yourself these four questions:

1. Is there somebody to back up the guarantee? Better still, is there a guarantee?
2. Can you be sure of adequate service this year and in future years?
3. What about spare parts? Think ahead. Will you always be able to get them?
4. What will your resale value be . . . tomorrow? Next year? In two years?

If you're buying a snowmobile, don't snap at the first good price you see. Ask yourself if it's good value. You'll never regret buying good value: you'll find it at your Ski-Doo dealer's.

Minden council considering changes to sign rules

Proposed changes may soon allow rural businessmen to advertise with larger signs, nearer the roadway on their own property in the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

Although the present by-law states that a businessman may advertise with a small sign attached to the main dwelling on the property, many requests have been made to the township to have the regulation changed.

By-law enforcement officer Dick Schell, who is working on the project with Dysart et al's officer, Bob English, said the Ministry of Transportation and Communications has suggested that two signs, 20 square feet, could be erected on the businessman's own property.

Anson, Hindon and Minden council seemed to be in favour of the advertising by-law change and authorized Schell to look into the matter further.

Dogs alert owners to burning house, Monmouth firemen unable to save it

Barking dogs awakened their owners in a burning house Sunday morning at Monrock Lake in Monmouth Township, according to the township's fire chief.

When Robert Ridout awoke to a burning house, he and his wife donned skis and trekked about two miles before they got to a neighbour's house to use the telephone, chief Floyd Tighe said Monday.

Although the actual cause of the blaze is not known, Tighe said there is a possibility it could have been started by a wood stove which was located in the end of the house where the fire began.

When the fire department was finally notified of the blaze, they tried to get near the house but could only drive as far as the road was plowed.

"By the time we got there, there was nothing we could do for it...if it hadn't been totalled there wasn't much we could have done for it anyway because we couldn't get to it," Tighe said.

Had there been any possibility of saving the house, Tighe said the men could have used a portable pump to extinguish the fire.

The house burned to the ground.

Minden to use $400 in taxes to pay for water at hall

Tourists and residents alike will still be able to get free water at the fire hall in Minden, although efforts have been made to have a meter installed on the tap.

At its regular meeting, last Wednesday, Anson, Hindon and Minden council voted to charge the township's general fund $400 to pay for the free water service.

At its last meeting, council was approached by the fire chief, Wm. (Deke) Jackson, with the suggestion a meter, which would charge 10 cents for a minute of water (approximately five gallons) could be installed by the firemen. Jackson said after the meter paid for the initial investment, the money derived from the meter could be split evenly with the township and the fire department.

However, council felt it was unnecessary to charge people for water even if the town's water system was running with a deficit.

In hopes of solving the problem, council decided the general fund could pay $400 to the water system to offset any costs.

Minden council close-lipped on roads

Anson, Hindon and Minden council is keeping closed-lipped about matters concerning the municipal streets.

At a meeting last Wednesday, council held a closed-door session with Ministry of Transportation and Communications representative Don Glashan to speak about 1981 road programs as it was dubbed on the agenda.

Later in the day, when council had finished its regular business, it once again asked the press to leave the meeting so it could discuss the matter further.

When regular council resumed, council passed a sketchy resolution which authorized clerk, Elinor Burke, to contact the MTC about the municipal streets.

Tuesday, reeve Lloyd Walker said he could not comment on the discussions or what they were about.

"When everything is settled, I'll tell you all about it," he said.

When asked if the matter might involve the reconstruction of Minden's streets damaged by sewer construction, Walker said only that council had "touched on a few different items" in its discussion with Glashan.

"I'm not in a position to talk on it right at this point...It won't be long and you'll know all about it," Walker said.

Council is not trying to be secretive in its dealings with the MTC but the matter cannot yet be discussed publicly, Walker added.

"It's not that we're trying to keep anything from anybody but things are just not ripe to put in the paper yet," he said.

The reeve and clerk were authorized to sign the revised agreement with V.O.N. (rate changed from $16.65 to $17.20 per visit).

Council concurred with the new Connecting Link Agreement between the municipality and the Ministry of Transportation and Communications.

"The limits which were established from previous correspondence that was carried out prior to construction. The summary of this correspondence and reconditions was that the municipality take over Highway #519 northerly up to Lakeview Centre, Highway 121 easterly to the town boundary which intersects with South Street and westerly from the centre of town to the intersection of Highway 121 and Highway 519 southerly.

The Municipality of Dysart supported County Council in an effort to have the Ontario Provincial Police, Minden detachment force increased to provide adequate coverage for Haliburton County.

By-law 81-1, a borrowing by-law for 1981, was passed.

By-law 81-2, a by-law to amend Zoning By-law No. 77-32 was passed.

Man sentenced to jail term

A 26 year old RR1, Haliburton man has been sentenced to nine months in jail after he was convicted of perjury.

Lyle Bacon was sentenced Tuesday, January 13 in provincial court in Minden.

The charge arose from testimony he gave at a preliminary hearing from an arson charge on March 18, 1977 at which he was appearing as a crown witness.

Signs 'do nothing' to attract people: council

It may not exactly be a sign of the times but one Minden councillor is distressed over improper and the lack of signs in the town area.

Ed Pergolas said last Wednesday the town's signs on the by-pass and parking signs in the town area were less than adequate.

"Those signs do absolutely nothing for the town," Pergolas said. He noted the signs proclaiming "Bobcaygeon Road, Minden" did not induce travellers to turn into the town's downtown area.

The by-pass signs should be changed to read "Minden business section", in hopes of attracting more tourists, Pergolas said.

Although the rest of council agreed with Pergolas that the highway signing was not adequate, they were not sure what changes they wished to make on the signs. A resolution was sent to the Ministry of Transportation and Communications saying council was not pleased with the present signing.

Pergolas also said signs depicting parking areas were poor in the town area, where they existed at all.

Parking signs should lead tourists to parking lots in the town area, Pergolas maintained. One parking lot, at the municipal offices, is signed, but the sign is small and could go unnoticed, he said. The other lot, located behind Northland Surplus on Peck Street is not signed at all.

"Very few people know where that lot is," Pergolas said.

New parking signs would help keep the tourists in the town longer if proper parking areas could be found easily, Pergolas said.

Minden appoints committee

Anson, Hindon and Minden council finalized appointments to the museum and art gallery committees for 1981 at its regular meeting last Wednesday.

Appointed to the museum committee for the next year were Eilleen Blears, Wendy Perry, Howard Clyde, Laura Kirkwood and Mervin Bunker.

In 1981, Gino and Margo Ziorjen, Jean Cox, Dr. Agnes Jamieson, Donna Monk and Harold Morgan will sit on the municipality's art gallery committee.

Double billing

Ratepayers in the village of Minden are being double billed for water services, although council has tried to couch the move in other terms. At a meeting last Wednesday, council agreed to transfer $400 from its general account to its water account to cover the cost of water taken from the public tap outside the fire hall. The step came after fire chief William Jackson, had suggested at an earlier meeting that a coin activated meter should be installed on the tap to ensure that people who did not pay into the Minden water system would be contributing to the cost of operating it.

The idea did not sit well with councillors at the time, who felt that paying for safe drinking water from a tap on a publically owned and supported building would rub some taxpayers the wrong way. And well it might have. But now, council has tried to deal with the situation by taking money out of one pocket and putting it into the other. The trouble is that the pockets of Minden residents are being dipped into twice, whether council recognizes it or not.

In theory, taking money from the general account to help pay for water available to the general public might make sense. In practice however, it amounts to hitting taxpayers in the village of Minden twice.

If the $400 came from the pockets of property owners outside the village, it might be acceptable to add it to the water account. But it comes from every taxpayer, those in Minden included. The amount is small when applied to individual properties but the fact remains that ratepayers in Minden are paying for the water they use in their homes, and shelling out a portion of the $400 that council has decided to contribute to the water system.

And as a matter of principle, that simply isn't fair.

Weedless Wednesday

This Wednesday has been officially declared "weedless Wednesday" by the Canadian Cancer Society. It is a day when every smoker in the country is asked to give up their cigarettes for a few hours.

Although the campaign is not well publicized outside of schools, it deserves to be supported. The overwhelming evidence that smoking is hazardous to health has prompted many smokers to give up the habit. Educational programs in schools have helped to convince a majority of young people that they are better off never to start smoking. And through programs like weedless Wednesday, the Canadian Cancer Society is trying to persuade those people who still smoke that if they can give it up for a day, they can give it up for good.

So if you are a smoker, why not give weedless Wednesday a try. Who knows. If you prove to yourself that you can survive for a few hours without lighting up, you just may have the incentive you need to kick the habit altogether.

Certainly the non-smokers among your family, friends and acquaintances will thank you for making their air a little bit cleaner, even if it is only for a day.

Worth keeping

Stanhope Township council will face an important challenge next month when it sits down with the owner of the Kanawa Canoe Museum in an effort to resolve a problem that could spell the end of the facility. For unless a compromise can be reached on the matter of property taxes for the museum, it may be forced to close or to seek another location.

The museum has been operating at a loss for a number of years, and its owner has told council that the situation cannot continue. He is seeking relief from property taxes that at the moment, stand at a little less than $2000 annually. Because the museum is privately owned, it is subject to taxation under the terms of the Assessment Act. But council has the option of returning in the form of a grant, whatever taxes it collects on the property. So far it has been unwilling to do so on the grounds that it could set a precedent and bring a host of similar requests from local business people. But that possibility seems remote. There are no other museums or facilities in Stanhope with the potential to attract day visitors from all over the continent. And there are no other facilities, public or private, that contain such historically significant material. If council wants to see the museum continue, it should be able to justify a grant equal to taxes.

If it remains reluctant to act decisively, however, it could still attempt to have the museum deeded to the municipality or some other level of government in trust.

Whatever it decides, council should work to keep the museum where it is, even if that means risking a complaint or two from some of its ratepayers.

As others see it

Police officers who are calling for two-man patrols in rural areas and in municipal areas with known heavy crime rates, have a very good point.

There has been an outcry for such two-man patrols since the murder of a police officer in the Orillia area last week.

Two other incidents of police being shot have helped to drive home the point.

Police have also called for bulletproof vests as standard equipment and we would support this recommendation as well.

The tragic death of the officer on a lonely road not far from Orillia drives home the point that efforts are much better spent in making sure our officers are better-equipped, have enough staff and are well-paid for their efforts.

We say "better spent" because the outcry following the senseless killing has been over improvements for the police rather than calling for capital punishment.

It makes more sense to voice the general need for two-man patrols and bulletproof vests than it does for capital punishment which has yet to prove itselt as a deterrent to murder.

Too often the murder of a police officer is met with cries of vigilante tactics and these, in the general overall sense, accomplish very little.

We were therefore gratified to see that attention is being focused on improved police patrols and equipment, a sensible direction to go.

Capital punishment, even if one believes it deters murder, does so only after the crime is committed.

Bulletproof vests, however, might avoid death before it occurs and that is what we are ideally trying to achieve.

Canada, it hardly needs to be said, is not the easiest country in which to live. Vast distances, empty, rugged lands and extremes in temperatures may have made us adaptable, but they have also held us back. If we're different from other people it may be less because of what we've done than because of the conditions with which we are forced to live. When you spend six months of the year staring at your feet to keep them under you as you walk down icy streets, or huddling into your coat to keep your flesh from freezing, or gripping the steering wheel in white knuckled expectation that an oncoming driver will lose control in the slush, you can be forgiven a certain tendency to be cautious. If, as many people claim, we lack the entrepreneurial spirit of our neighbours to the south, it could be because we find risk enough in coping with the vicissitudes of our winter.

Canada is, in fact, one of the coldest countries on earth. Sweden, a land we've been told, that's filled with super fit 60-year-olds who like to cross country ski and plunge naked and steaming into icy lakes, has a mean temperature of 38.9 degrees Farenheit, while Canada's average mean temperature is actually one degree colder at 37.9 F. And Norway, the land of fiords and snowy mountains is even warmer, averaging 39.6 F. Only the Soviet union among large countries is colder, with an average mean temperature of 35.6 F.

Northern Ontario, that amorphous landscape that for most people, begins somewhere north of Toronto (no one seems quite sure where) is on average, almost as cold as Alaska. The average mean temperature at weather stations in Northern Ontario is 34.3 F., while Alaska has an average reading of 32.7 F. Northern Ontario is even colder than Finland, land of Laplanders and reindeer. Trout Lake has an annual mean temperature of 26.4 Farenheit, while the coldest spot in Finland has an average mean temperature two degrees warmer, at 28.4 F.

Montreal's annual mean temperature is the same as Stockholm's, at 43.7 F, while both Ottawa, at 41.4 F and Quebec City, at 39.9, are colder. Thunder Bay, Winnipeg and Calgary have lower annual means than any big cities in Norway, Sweden or Finland.

The coldest big cities outside of the soviet block are Edmonton, at 34.5 F and Saskatoon, at 34.9 F. Both of them are colder than Anchorage, Alaska, with an annual mean of 35.1 F.

All of which goes a long way to explain why so many Canadians spend all or part of their winters in Florida and other southern resort spots. They may not have known that Canada is colder than Scandinavia. But they know its almost too cold for comfort.

Feir Play

It took many years and a great deal of work in an effort to get the Vankoughnet Road completed from Carnarvon to Bracebridge. Now that we have it, there seems to be this ongoing problem of maintaining good road conditions throughout the the winter months. For many of you who have travelled this stretch of highway, you will realize that there are some long hills and plenty of rock cuts to drive through. During the winter months if this highway is not sanded and salted it can prove to be very treacherous for the motorist using this stretch of the road. We here at the Echo are very familiar with this highway as our truck makes a weekly trip to Bracebridge every Tuesday evening and back sometime the next morning. What we can't understand is the fact that very little sand or salt is applied to this section of highway following and during a snow or ice storm. We are not the only people who are complaining but we do know that our driver is lucky at times to get back home without avoiding an accident with another vehicle or going into the ditch. We have this highway now, so surely the powers that be can maintain it, especially during the winter months.

I realize that I am one person who enjoys handing out advice and opinions on this matter or that matter. Sometimes it gets me in hot water but I am smart enough to realize that if I am going to dish it out I have to be man enough to take the criticism when its pointed my way. While on the subject of opinions we must all realize that if we put four people in a room and threw out a topic for discussion on the table I doubt if those four people would agree. Everyone would have different thoughts on the matter and this is good, because if it ever comes to the time that we all agree on everything then we are really in trouble. Everyone has the rights to their own opinions and this is what democracy is all about. There is one thing that I just can't tolerate and that's public apathy. We can't sit back and say that everything is just fine and dandy when we know that it isn't. Many people will sit back and say, oh well, let it go; we can't do anything about it anyway. This is far from the truth. We can do something about it by letting out thoughts be known on certain matters of interest. We know that there are people out there who are not satisfied with the way things are being run and if this is the case, get after the organization you are a member of, take your problems or beefs to your local council, your M.P. or your M.P.P. Think it over because we are not going to get very far if we all sit back and keep our mouth shut.

We have been asked by the two organizations who are operating the Atom Hockey Tournament to be held at Haliburton on February 13, 14, 15 to request your help. We have been informed that only a handful of people have come forward to take billets. Anyone who would be willing to help out please call Betty Salvatori at 457-1657 or Karen Bannister, 457-1347.

Through all this doom and gloom, worry and stress of this modern age there seems to be a bit of sunshine and that appears when people are given the opportunity to laugh. This was proven to be a fact just recently when both the arenas at Haliburton and Minden were practically filled with people of all ages who came out to watch the famous Flying Fathers hockey club perform their hockey magic and also put on a show for the fans. We have been told that some people enjoyed the fun packed evening at Haliburton Tuesday night so much that they were in Minden the following evening for more of the same. The Flying Fathers who by the way, are no slouches when it comes to playing hockey can also make for an evening of fun with their antics of playing football on ice, throwing pies, running around with a horse and what have you. Everyone we have been talking to tell us that they really enjoyed the evening and the boys who play minor sports in the Haliburton and Minden areas were the big winners when they received some of the proceeds. It was also encouraging to see that the recreation clubs from both Minden and Haliburton got together to bring us in this entertainment.

We have just been informed that the seminar on income tax problems will be held at the Legion Hall at Haliburton on Friday, February 6th. It was previously announced that it would be held at PineStone Inn on February 5th.

A busload with 52 hockey fans aboard left Haliburton recently for the trip to Peterborough Memorial Centre to see Bernie Nicholls of West Guilford who plays for the Kingston Canadiens play the Peterborough Petes. They were not disappointed as Bernie came up with a great game and we all have high hopes that he will reach the National Hockey League in the not too distant future. He is certainly ranking high up on the scoring list and is a good bet to go places in the hockey world. Bob MacNaull of Haliburton who organized the trip of players from his hockey team and their parents hopes to have another bus trip organized the next time that Kingston play in Peterborough.

May we remind everyone that the Minden Kinsmen Carnival Queen Contest will be held on Friday, January 30th at 5:30 p.m. at the arena auditorium. Please phone all entries to John Robinson at 457-2971 no later than January 28th. The rules are listed in an advertisement in this week's issue of the Echo. We urge all those interested to get their entries in right away.

May we remind everyone in the Haliburton and Minden area to please leave up your Christmas lights for the two winter carnivals that are coming up. The first one will be the Minden Kinsmen Winter Carnival slated for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, January 30 - 31 and February 1. These coloured lights add a great deal to the carnivals.

Pic of the Past

This photo takes us back to the 1948-49 hockey season when the Northern Hockey League better known as the Little N.H.L. was in operation with all games played at the old Haliburton Arena. The local ice palace was packed to the rafters on several occasions when the league would feature doubleheaders between such games as the West Guilford Timber Kings, National Steel Car, International Cooperage, Haliburton Legion and other teams. Many of the players who played in this league moved up later to play for the Haliburton Huskies. Queen's Park Report

by MPP John Eakins

The report of the Ontario Royal Commission appointed to investigate abuses in the disclosure of personal health records was released at the end of last year. After nearly three years of enquiry, Mr. Justice Horace Krever of the Ontario Supreme Court proposed some 170 legislative changes aimed at enhancing the confidentiality of health records while legalizing certain forms of disclosure.

Terms of reference of the commission, established in December 1977, called for a review of pertinent legislation to ascertain whether confidentiality of patients' records was being properly protected, and an investigation into any improper activities or violations of the laws.

The commission's report confirmed the existence of widespread abuses, but advised against prosecution of offenders, suggesting the real fault lies in the system. Judge Krever said that his review of 77 statutes and regulations showed "no consistent treatment or coherent policy regarding the confidentiality of health information", that he had found little in the way of restrictions on access to health records except, ironically, for the patients themselves.

"In Ontario, patients have very limited rights of access to health information about themselves. Only six statutes and regulations expressly confer such rights, and the information to which access is granted is restricted in scope."

The Krever Report proposes that patients be given a qualified right of access to their own health records and a means of having errors in those records corrected. A provincially appointed health commissioner could hear appeals for denial of such access on grounds it would harm the patient, and would also hear appeals against refusals to correct patients' records. Confidentiality could be protected by a host of new laws and rules to be followed by hospitals, government agencies, health-care personnel, employers and others who possess health records.

Recognizing that conflicts may develop between the needs for privacy and public protection, the report does not actually ban disclosure. "There will be seen throughout the eternal conflict between the obligation to, and the rights of, patients and the public's need for, or interest in, protection."

Only one sanction is proposed for breaches of confidentiality, and that is resort to the courts in the form of a lawsuit. The Report recommends that any patient whose health information has been disclosed be given the right to sue for a minimum of $10,000 both the person "who unjustifiably discloses" the information and anyone who induced that person to make the disclosure.

The main innovation would be the $10,000 minimum and the absence of a time limit for launching the lawsuit. At present, a suit for breach of a provincial statute is limited to actual damages suffered, and must be initiated within six months.

Increases in pension announced

Increases in the Old Age Security pension, Guaranteed Income Supplement and Spouse's Allowance, which will take effect this month.

The basic Old Age Security pension will be increased to $202.14 monthly from the present $196.83.

The maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement for an individual or a married person whose spouse is receiving neither a pension nor a Spouse's Allowance, will increase to $202.94 from its current $197.60. Added to the basic pension, this will give a person receiving both the OAS and the maximum GIS a monthly total of $405.08.

The maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement for a married couple, both of whom are pensioners, will increase to $156.47 each from $152.36. Added to the basic pension this will give each married pensioner receiving the maximum GIS a total of $358.61, or $717.22 for the couple.

The Guaranteed Income Supplement is paid to pensioners whose income, apart from the Old Age Security pension, is limited. the amount of the supplement varies in relation to income.

The maximum Spouse's Allowance will increase to $358.61 from $349.19. The maximum Spouse's Allowance is made up of an amount equivalent to the basic Old Age Security pension and the maximum GIS at the married rate and it is paid to persons between 60 and 65 years of age who are married to OAS pensioners and meet residence requirements.

Ombudsman to visit Lindsay

The Office of the Ombudsman will be visiting Lindsay on Wednesday, February 4, 1981, MPP John Eakins announced this week. "I welcome this visit both as a Provincial Member and as a member of the Ombudsman's Legislative Committee at Queen's Park," Eakins said.

"If anyone wishes to contact me prior to the visit I shall be pleased to make time available to discuss any concern which one might have. While I make referrals to the Ombudsman on various occasions, it is important to point out that anyone may contact and approach his office in complete confidence without referral from anyone. In this regard, Mr. Barry Kearns, the Coordinator of Hearings, will be in charge of the Ombudsman's visit to Lindsay," Eakins said.

"I urge anyone who feels they have been unfairly dealt with by a ministry or an agency of the provincial government to take this opportunity to discuss their problems with a representative of the Ombudsman's office."

Super Winter '81

It's certainly not necessary to tell our readers here that we are in the midst of our best winter in recent memory for snow conditions relative to skiing and snowmobiling. It has been marred only by extreme temperatures that have made our visitors somewhat uncomfortable and created problems with their vehicles, and by slush conditions on the lakes. It is always interesting to note also at this time of year how fortunate we are that we do not experience most of the extreme storms that we hear of in neighbouring areas.

Many activities are ambitiously being planned for this winter by a host of hardworking volunteers who certainly deserve our thanks and appreciations. Many additional visitors are drawn to the Highlands, in this, our other tourist season, as a result of many of these events and winter business should continue to grow and prosper if quality attractions are offered on an ongoing basis.

With several hockey tournaments and the Skyline Curling Bonspiel behind us the next major event is the Minden Winter Carnival. January 30, 31, and February 1 are the dates and as usual a carnival queen will be chosen, a huge parade is anticipated and dances, broomball and hockey competitions will be features.

This year the car races on ice will move to South Lake where an exceptional track is being prepared. At the fairgrounds snowmobile racing will be run on an oval track. On Saturday the ladies at Carnarvon United Church will once again put on their famous Roast Beef Carnival Dinner at the church from 5:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Charge for the full course meal is only $6 for adults, $3 for children under 12 and pre-schoolers are free.

On February 7 Whipper Watson's Snowarama will get underway from both Minden and Haliburton. This event is sponsored locally by the two Rotary Clubs and it's not too early to be collecting pledges for the 100 km. ride in aid of Whipper's crippled children. This event is being held on a Saturday here for the first time in hopes that it will increase the participation even more. Do join them.

The following weekend, February 13, 14 and 15 the Lake Kashagawigamog Atom Hockey Tournament get's underway with 16 teams of 10-year-old boys competing for four championships in two divisions. This is the third tournament this winter that the Tourist Association along with Haliburton Minor Hockey will be putting on. We understand they are presently looking for families to billet players and we can tell you from experience you should try it -- you'll like it!

Also on February 14 Gooderham Recreation are running their second annual "Stump Jumpers Snowmobile Rally" with a good day's run and a

Ah, winter! There's nothing like you to put the iron into the souls of Canadians. We can taff you out. But the trouble is that the iron stays in the souls, and our short summer is not enough to make it molten. In other words, everybody over fifty has arthritis.

Mine doesn't bother me much, because I'm always trying a new remedy that is guaranteed, and hope lives eternal in the human beast.

I've tried carrying a potato in my hip pocket. It was a sure thing, I was told. But from sitting around on that cold mashed potato for a couple of weeks, all I got was arthritis in the hip, where I'd never had it before.

Then I got a kind of wristband, made of some shiny metal, which allegedly had done wonders for arthritis in Japan. Nothing happened except that I got arthritis in my wrist, where I'd never had it before.

My son, who is a great man for herbs and a vegetarian, except when he's home, when he eats three helpings of meat, had a surefire recipe that would cure arthritis in three weeks. It's an herb from Switzerland, called Devil's Claw. It tastes like a devil's claw that hasn't been washed since His Evilness was kicked out of heaven.

You have to drink three cups of the junk, brewed in hot water and left standing, per day, before meals. I was faithful for the three weeks, even though it was an ordeal to look at food after swallowing the swill. Result? I had the worst arthritic knee I've had since a guy kicked my kneecap two inches to the left back in 1944.

A kind lady from Alberta wrote that she could get me a special price on some kind of machine that gives you ultrared (or something) treatments. I declined an answer, on the reasonable grounds that I knew it would turn me into a red arthritic. I wouldn't mind being a red politically, or a red Indian (something I've never seen), but I didn't want to become a red arthritic, for some reason.

My wife has about eight books about arthritis. She keeps reading me bits from each, and I get so confused I don't know whether to diet strictly, eat like a hog, get into acupuncture, or go out and roll in the snow, naked.

I imagine any or all of them would have the same result. Anyway, my arthritis doesn't bother me at all. It's just a good excuse for getting out of a lot of unnecessary chores, which my old lady is quite young and fit enough to do herself. Scrubbing (my knees are bad.) Wallpapering (my shoulders are killing me.) Garbage (doc says don't lift anything over 20 pounds; my back.)

Anyway I didn't intend to write a column about arthritis. As a topic of either conversation or literature, it's about as exciting as the common cold, another subject which winter provides Canadians some stimulating repartee about.

What I really set out to do was write an Ode to Winter. And here it comes. I tell my students that any dang fool can write modern poetry, but there aren't many of us left who can make it rhyme.

Ode to Winter:

"Winter, you is a time for Slipping and sliding,
Swooping and gliding,
Snowmobile riding.
But if you decided to spend the winter in Flor'da
I'd adore ya."

That's all. No need to spoil a perfect bit of poesy. But imagine what a modern poet, especially a young one, would do with that. Here's a sample, no rhyme, no rhythm:

Hey, Mr. Winter
"I dig you.
Beer and bums after the ski

Tim Brethour's rink from Uxbridge managed to take the "C" championship away from Bev Smith's Oshawa rink in the final minutes of play.

One of the most outstanding shots of the tournament came in the final end of the "D" event championship when Mike Cummings, of Toronto, edged his hammer by the opposition's guards to knock his team's rock through a narrow alley, connecting with his opponents shot rock in the inner circle. Cumming's rock stayed in the inner circle to win the game.

Atoms win trophy in Bancroft tournament

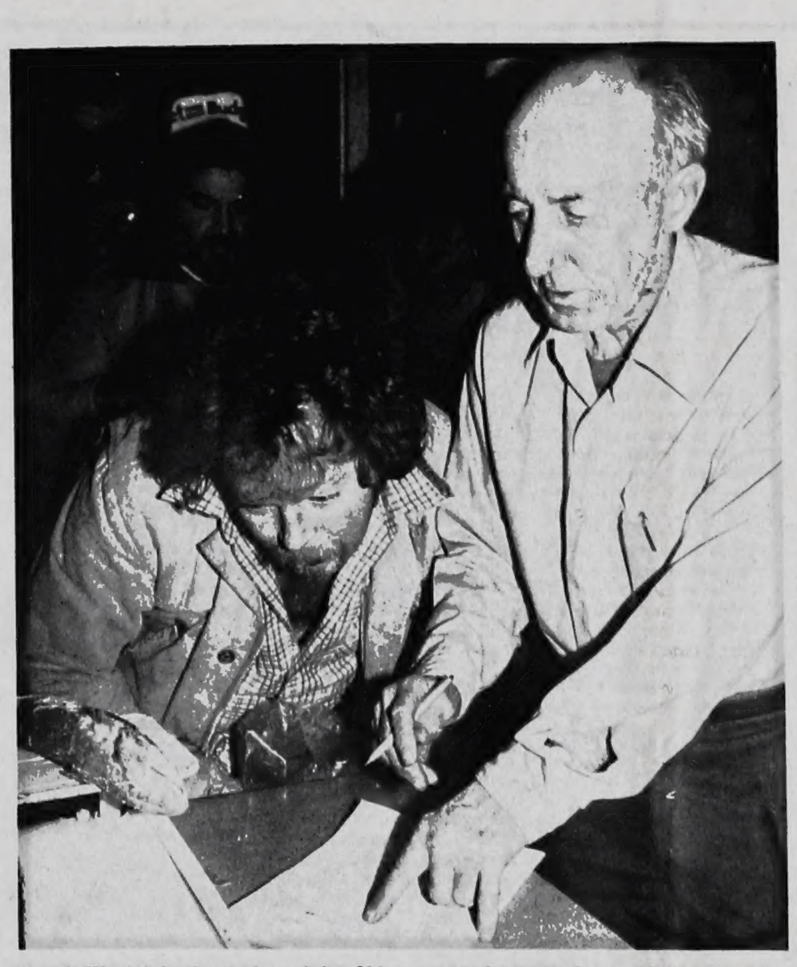
by Doug Mitchell

On Saturday and Sunday of last week, the Haliburton OMHA Atoms travelled to Bancroft to participate in a well-run tournament. Not only did the team play exciting and fast hockey but they proved to be the best team there by winning the "A" championship against Belleville by a score of 7 - 3.

In the first game against Madoc, the local boys got off to a good start with three unanswered goals, one by Jeff Warburton and two by Erin Nicholls, all assisted by Jaro Cooper. However, Madoc fought back to tie the game up in the third period. The Haliburton team settled down again and put the pressure on Madoc and with only one minute left, Erin Nicholls blasted the winner assisted by Jaro Cooper and Jeff Warburton.

In the second game against a strong Peterborough team, the excitement was tense as Peterborough got off to an early lead within the first minute. Haliburton, with the strong checking of Dean Brownson, Darren Byers and Philip Johnston thwarted the Peterborough team completely. In the third period, with Haliburton one man short, Jaro Cooper and Erin Nicholls both scored while killing the penalty. Before the period ended, Erin Nicholls scored two more, one from Ron Perrin and the other from Jaro Cooper to round out the game Haliburton 4, Peterborough 1.

The championship game against Belleville was highlighted by the dynamic skating and superior positional play of Haliburton and fine defensive play be Ben Packard, Drew Mitchell, Colin Hunter and Ronnie Perrin backed up by sound goaltending by Gavin McKnight gave Belleville few good opportunities to score. The awesome scoring power of the line of Erin Nicholls, Jaro Cooper and Jeff Warburton produced seven goals of the winning Haliburton team while the tenacious checking of the Dean Brownson, Philip Johnston and Darren Byers. line minimized the Belleville scoring threat. Final score, Haliburton 7, Belleville 3 and the "A" division championship in the Bancroft All Stars of Tomorrow Hockey Tournament.



Dennis West, left, checks the weight of his one pound trout as the president of Branch 624 in Wilberforce looks on.

Gray's rink wins semi-finals in annual Skyline Bonspiel

round of the "A" event, John Wilson's rink started feeling its way toward the semi-finals. Wilson's rink defeated Burk's rink from Minden and then moved on to beat Steve Colliver's rink from Sudbury. Colliver's rink had ousted Bev Smith's rink into the "C" event earlier.

At the same time, Haliburton's rink skipped by Dave Gray was winding its way towards the semi-finals against Wilson's rink. Gray's rink defeated another Haliburton rink, headed by Joe Iles and then moved on to take Minden's rink skipped by Millar. Millar's rink had downed Ken Wilson's rink to compete against Gray.

Both Haliburton rinks, John Wilson's and Gray's met in the semi-finals. In a good competition Gray's rink came out on top to move into the final against Piper's rink from Oshawa.

Piper's rink had made it to the competition after outcurling Timber's rink from Uxbridge in the semi-finals and had also racked up wins against Atwood's rink and Nicholson's rink.

Timber's rink had come up with wins after playing Munroe's rink from Lindsay and Morrison's rink from Bowmanville.

In the final championship match, Piper's rink outplayed Gray's rink in a tough competition.

In the "B" event, Ptolemy's rink from Milton, defeated Naylor's rink from Oshawa in the final match to take the championship trophy.

In earlier play, Ptolemy's rink had defeated Ruddy's rink from Unionville and Bob Colliver's team from Haliburton.

Naylor's rink's efforts to get to the top saw them beat Scheffee's rink from Haliburton and Ron Barr's rink from Haliburton.

In the "C" event Brethour's rink from Uxbridge took the championship match away from Smith's rink from Oshawa. Brethour's rink also defeated Perry's rink from Oshawa and Nicholson's rink from Whitby. Smith's rink had overtaken Ken Wilson's rink from Haliburton and Burk's rink from Minden to make the finals.

The only championship captured by a Haliburton rink came when Mike Cummings' rink ousted Brown's rink from Beaverton on a hammer shot. Cummings' rink had downed Gadway's rink from Wilberforce and Radway's rink from Brechin. Brown's rink made it to the finals and beating Youngman's rink from Oshawa and Long's rink from Apsley.

Youngman's rink had the bye in the first round of the "D" event when Lynch's rink from Bancroft did not continue in the competition.

Tri-County Atoms split two in Fenelon and Beaverton

The Haliburton Tri-County Atoms split a pair of games over the weekend, losing at home against Fenelon Falls Saturday and winning on the road Sunday against Beaverton.

In Saturday's game, Haliburton jumped into the lead in the first period when Charlie Franklin took a pass from John Doherty and made it count.

But it was all Haliburton could muster in the game.

Fenelon Falls tied the score in the second period and in the third, got one more to come out on the winning end of a 2 - 1 score.

Sunday's match in Beaverton did not begin well for the local squad, as they were unable to find the mark through two periods.

Beaverton got on the board in the first period with a single goal, but in the second period, neither team could connect.

Just 10 seconds into the third period, Beaverton got their second and Haliburton appeared to be in trouble. They fought back, however and with 13:11 left to play, Jason Smith teamed up with Charlie Franklin and Jeff Emmerson for Haliburton's first goal.

Less than five minutes later, Smith again found the mark, assisted once more by Franklin and Emmerson.

With 2:43 left to play, Haliburton got the go-ahead goal off the stick of Franklin. He was assisted by Emmerson and Paul Goulet.

With the aid of some sharp net minding from Ed Brohm, Haliburton hung on to the lead and took a 3 - 2 victory.

James Auld officiated in the east, The Hon. Larry Grossman in the central section, and Charles W. Mann, Mayor of Kincardine did the honours at Teeswater. The new trail is the first of a series of provincial public trails which, when completed, will form a grid of trails stretching from the Quebec border to Sarnia

EDITOR'S NOTE

The Haliburton County Echo would like to remind coaches and parents that we need their cooperation to cover minor hockey in Haliburton. If scoresheets are made available to us, stories can be written about games. The scoresheets will be returned. Parents and coaches should also feel free to submit stories about games if they wish, and we'll make every effort to publish them.

While we recognize that writing stories from game sheets is not the ideal way to cover hockey games, we trust parents and coaches will also recognize that a two-person editorial staff with the activities of an entire county to cover cannot sit in on minor hockey games every weekend.

That need not mean, however, that the achievements of individuals and teams are ignored. With your cooperation, we can ensure that games are covered.

Those who may have wondered why the Echo no longer contains reports on the Haliburton Huskies should be aware that at the request of Huskies management and sponsors, the responsibility for covering the team's activities has been assigned to Bill Davis of Haliburton. His reports of Huskies games will be published when they are made available to us.

COUNTY ECHO FAMILY

Extendicare News

by Dr. W.O. Anderson

Monday was a nice winter day, frosty, calm and bright. We hear stories among the employees of hard car starts but they all made it and adding all the miles travelled by each shift it would reach quite a distance. Some commute as much as 50 miles, a long way to travel night and morning.

Interest is increasing toward our getting a bus for going on outings as we frequently do and also is the prime objective of Ann Barker's gift of $700. An added possibility is its use by other groups like we are now, needing a bus and having none. The media is interested in interviewing the executive of the Happy Gang and taking a group photo. Let us hope that enough people will be informed of this need.

Tuesday morning June Devolin conducted Bible study taking as her theme a continuation of the former studies - the fruits of the Holy Spirit: love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self control. At this session we studied 'peace', a condition referred to many, many times in the Bible, that is peace within us and peace on earth.

In the afternoon we played bingo scrutinized by Pat Burk, called alternately by Ray Smith then Allan Macklin. Everyone had a good time and were good natured.

When we refer to the electronic media we naturally think of radio AM and FM and TV rather than the press, telephone or gossip. Of all of these the most enjoyable is the FM radio which in Haliburton has good reception to simply run a bell wire from the TV intake to the radio. No other aerial is needed and causes no interference. The most enjoyable sessions of popular music we have found comes from 101.5 FM Peterborough from week days, 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., one score after another that could not be duplicated in any other way. It is as though one had a record or tape player that would play the latest hits but without having to change a record or tape, or even buy any. Pretty nice.

Wednesday was the day for the Senior Citizens of this area of Haliburton County within commuting distance gathered together at Locarno Tourist Resort, including any resident of extendicare who wished, for a special dinner put on by Locarno staff. Our volunteer driver was Harry and Pat Woolley, another was Norman and Marion Clift, the rest of the extendicare dinner guests were taken by Pat Burk driving Darlene Darby's limousine. Thanks everyone. The Bassetts greeted us warmly leaving nothing in the way of giving us a very pleasant outing and dinner. The menu featured a salad mixed by ourselves at a convenient bar, followed by a delightful fried chicken plate with plenty of delicious coffee or tea, then our favourite apple pie for dessert. It is nice how many acquaintances are made at these gatherings or without would not. To be sure the writer wore his ice cleats faithfully as should anyone who has slipped on the ice and fallen, injured or not.

This jigsaw puzzle is a real challenge requiring us to bypass what appears to be a missing piece and at the same time get the impression a dozen or more are missing, but finally ending with none missing. It is very enticing.

It is nice that we can resume walking, not long distance but simply about the village about a mile. Governments are advertising exercise with increasing urgency trying to urge everyone to boost the fitness of Canadians to walk, to jog, to bicycle, to be active in competitive sport, to ski or skate. Of all of these walking is foremost. Sometimes we wonder how fit the average Canadian is.

As good as their word Nancy Picard, pianist and Peggy Neville, vocal, came to provide us with another session of the old-time favourite old-time songs with a lot of fun to go with it vaudeville if you wish. They are still determined to come each week but not necessarily on Thursday.

Rev. Trevor Denny, Rector of St. George's Anglican Church in Haliburton was our devotional sky pilot Friday morning. With such a marvelous voice as Rev. Denny has there was no need of an accompanist to guide our singing. He chose as his theme "I have taught you in the palm of my hands" and had a sacred relic, a hand grasping a child to illustrate. Every living person is in His hand to thus be guided through life. Thus there are no lives wasted. God makes use of every one of us for his purpose, even if we ourselves think we are failures, we are God's children even if we do not know it. Those after service snacks of tea or coffee and cookies have been resumed since the Christmas rush. We enjoyed it. Incidently Rev. Denny had a good word to say about the 'joke' or humour or levity or even facetiousness.

In that photo taken of Ann Barker and the Happy Gang executive, and printed in last week's Echo, did you note the glum faces and yet we have been advocating the smile. At any rate let us at least practice.

Two movies were shown in the afternoon. 1. All about country drained by the river Clyde showing its leisure, its industry, its farming and its tourism. It is a mighty Scottish river. 2. "Don't knock the ox", showing even the modern use of oxen from shoeing them with semi-colon steel shoes to the amazing

Obituary

Phyllis Hodgson

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Clayton W. Hodgson on Tuesday, January 6, 1981, at St. George's Anglican Church, Haliburton, conducted by Rev. Trevor Denny and assisted by Mr. William Gliddon, organist, and the choir. Six grandsons were pallbearers. After the services, refreshments were served to the family, relatives, and friends in the parish hall by the Anglican Church Women.

Mrs. Hodgson was born in the Township of Dysart in 1899 and lived in Haliburton Village for her entire life. She was the daughter of John A. Dart and Annie Moon, both of whom came to Dysart as the children of two settling pioneering families in the 1860's. The other members of the John Dart family were Robert, Grenville, Leonard and Russell.

Mrs. Hodgson was a faithful member of St. George's Anglican Church all her life and was one of the founding members of the Women's Auxiliary. She was associated with the Haliburton Branch of the Red Cross Society from its formation and was greatly interested in the creation of the local hospital. She acted as treasurer of that organization for 17 years. She was a charter member and past matron of Highland Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Apart from being the wife of Clayton W. Hodgson who was the Member of Parliament of this constituency for 18 years, she also had a political career of her own. She was a member and chairman of the Dysart School Area Board for eight years. At the time of the formation of the Haliburton County District High school Board, she was appointed a member for one year. During that time she was the spokesman for the board at a meeting of the Haliburton County Council for their approval of the construction of a secondary school for the county.

As well as contributing to the life of her community, she was also mother of six children -- Glen, Douglas, Anna, Thomas, Margaret and Louis.

Mrs. Hodgson was always very interested in the developments and happenings in the county and was very proud of the achievements made during her lifetime.

Guild News

by Carole McLean

Have you been wondering where it is at? I remember last year that every time I entered Haliburton along Highway 121, I was continually watching for my first glimpse of its brightly coloured body to become visible over the rim of the protective snow banks along its side. It became a symbol of winter end, when, one day as if by magic it disappeared from view.

In a few short weeks it will once again be at its similar spot on Head Lake, for all to see.

The Guild's "Old Car" for the 50/50 draw, brightly coloured and awaiting spring's arrival will be placed there a week before Haliburton's Winter Carnival.

The bright colours have been applied with a lead free paint to insure a non pollutant for our lovely lake.

The tickets for the draw will be available at the Rails' End Gallery, from Guild members and at various locations around Haliburton - so look for it!

Winter Carnival Sale

The Guild's annual Winter Carnival Sale is scheduled for Friday, February 20 and will run through to Saturday, February 28. It will be open Sunday, February 22 from 12 - 4 p.m., with chili and coffee being served for all those cold and welcome visitors. So don't forget, receiving dates at the Gallery for crafts people to bring in their crafts for the sale will be the week of February 15. For more details contact the Gallery and ask for Debbie Bates.

Quilting Workshop

The quilting show is still in progress and runs until February 31. During that weekend, February 29 and 30 a two-day workshop will be held at the Gallery under the tutiledge of reknowned and award winning quiltor Judith Tinkl of Sunderland.

The title of the workshop is "Quilting Clothing", or if you will "Quilting You Can Wear". The workshop will run from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. at a fee of $30.00. The two days will be spent exploring the construction and design of quilted garments, clothing and accessories will be designed either from scratch or from adapted patterns. Colour relationships and organizations will be discussed along with various techniques in construction, its a workshop you won't want to miss.

Rug Hookers

Our "happy hookers" are planning a bus tour to take place in May for the week beginning May 25 - 29. It is a five-day trip to Kennebunkport Maine, to visit Joan Moshimer, well-known rug hooker and teacher. The cost of the trip is $197. double or $242.00 single, with traveling time being one and a half days either way, leaving two days in Kennebunkport itself.

In talking with Peggy Barclay. Peggy expressed a desire to interest as many varied crafts people as possible in participating in this trip, and with that in mind she then wrote Joan Moshemir to enquire as to what other crafts people or outlets in pottery, weaving, etc. would be available in her area. The bus company itself, she further stated are planning one or two side trips for their party.

If you are interested in attending Peggy would like to know as soon as possible as the bus must be booked soon. For more information watch this column of phone Peggy Barclay at 754-2367.

Gooderham News

Mr. William Dewey passed away suddenly at his home on New Year's Eve. Left to mourn his loss is his wife, the former Dorothy Cary, five sons - Ray, Don, Tye, Perry and Mac, four daughters, Betty, Ormae, Judy and Gail. Three brothers also survive - Bruce, Frank and Dan. His son, Douglas, predeceased him last summer. Funeral services were held in the Pentecostal church with Pastor Sauve officiating. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

We are pleased that Mrs. Pearl Cary was able to return to her home in time for Christmas. Following a lengthy stay in hospital both before and after surgery, she is making rapid progress toward being her usual cheery and busy person.

We are also glad to report that Ross Raby is able to be home following surgery in the Wellesley hospital and that he is doing fine.

Weekend visitors at the home of Mrs. Grace Billings were her grandson, Jim Hartin, with his wife and family, of Fenelon Falls and her great grandson, Cliff Russell, of Port Perry.

Mrs. Ruby Maxwell spent Christmas Day with her son George, his wife and family in Scarborough. Her daughter, Grace, was also present. The following day they all travelled to Barrie where they celebrated the festive season with Birdie and Larry McGauhey and family.

I spent a pleasant Christmas and New Year's holiday in Barrie with my son and his family. Due to cold weather and bad road conditions, the holiday lasted for three weeks, which was much longer than I intended. While there I attended a hockey game between Haliburton Huskies and the Oro 77 team on which my grandson played. So my loyalties were rather divided. It was a close game - tied till almost the end of the period, when Oro managed to slip in the puck to win the game.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Billings and Danny, accompanied by Mrs. Grace Billings, spent Boxing Day in Omemee with Mrs. Verna Hartin.

Mrs. Marilyn Billings, with her children, Maurine, Robbie, and Angie spent Christmas Day with her brother, Len Barr, his wife, and family at Bobcaygeon.

The intensely cold weather seems to bring its toll of fires. Mrs. Nora Carey had the misfortune to have a chimney fire which might have proved more disastrous had it not been for the efficient work of our volunteer fire brigade. She feels deeply appreciative of the efforts of these men and wishes to sincerely thank them, and also nearby friends who rallied so kindly and helpfully at this time.

The firemen were also called out on Tuesday night due to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Riel being on fire. Here, again, they worked hard but the house suffered considerable damage. An overheated Franklin stove was the cause of this blaze.

A third call took the fire fighters to Little Bear Lake where the Cramp cottage was on fire.

Miss Vaneita Pickens and her mother have gone to Whitby due to the illness of Mr. Reuben Tyndall.

Our community was saddened to hear of the death of Alberta White last week at Tory Hill. Funeral services were held Saturday in the Tory Hill United Church with Mr. Maurice Bradley in charge. Deepest sympathy is extended to her sister, Mrs. Violet Billings and her brother Roy Gibson. A sister, Gertie Orchyk, predeceased her.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Dallyn Pickens has not been enjoying good health lately. We trust that she will soon be on the road to complete recovery.

The United Church Bible Study group met at the home of Mrs. Grace Billings last Thursday.

Bruce Dewey Sr., was a visitor at the home of Shirley and Kenny Gill one day during the holiday season. While there, several of his friends called to see him before his return to Bobcaygeon. All commented on how well he looked.

At the Wilberforce arena on the evening of January 24, Glamorgan young hockey players are meeting their mothers in a game that should prove worth watching. The proceeds of this game go to help raise money for our new community centre. This effort on the part of the mothers deserves our support. If any young mother is sports-minded enough to assist in this game, kindly contact Judy Stoughton or Julie Hunter who will welcome you on their team. Do plan to attend and add to the game with your cheers.

I hope you're better by now if you've been one of the unlucky people on the sick list of late. Bill and I were visiting with grandson, Jason, last Sunday evening while he was still a patient at Ross Memorial Pediatrics. He sure was some sorry looking sight and isn't well yet but is coming along, now that he's home in familiar surroundings with mom and dad. There must have been eight or 10 small babies in hospital when we were there and one little three month old was Grace and Joe England's grandson of Norland. I hope they're all well and home soon where they belong.

Congratulations to Vicki and Cameron Gilmour who presented Vi and Albert Crego with an eight lb. 11 oz. great granddaughter at the Kingston General Hospital on Sunday, January 4 at 9 a.m. This little charmer is Holly Christie Gilmour.

Ida Pardy of Coboconk was the lucky winner of the Norland Firefighters hockey pool on Saturday, January 10.

Once again, a reminder of the Kinmount and District Horticultural Society's annual meeting which will include a pot luck dinner and penny table to be held at Kinmount Legion Hall, Branch 441 on Wednesday, January 28 at 6 p.m. The members would like to see a good turnout so why not give your friends a call and make an evening of it? Please bring your own dishes and your donation towards the pot luck dinner. If you have anything at all you could donate towards the penny table it would be greatly appreciated and will be accepted by any horticultural member.

Joan and Ken Hyams are back home after a few days visiting in Toronto.

Bill Wilson was in the Toronto area Wednesday and home Thursday.

A very happy 85th to my mother, being Mary Louisa Pyke of Norland, January 24.

Mary Graham and her son Kevin were visitors at Helen and Alex Graham's house while watching out for Norm's plane after their fishing trip last Tuesday.

Euchre results at Galway Hall, January 14. Men's high: Jack Shedden; men's low: Peanuts Davidson; ladies' high: Betty Stuart; ladies' low: Brenda Longhurst; most lone hands: Alma Harper.

Happy birthday to Brenda Longhurst.

I enjoyed an afternoon visit from Ken Hyams on Thursday and he has written a poem that says it all. I hope you enjoy it. Clip it out, you may be able to say you knew him when, some day. I'm not sure whether Ken's prose will be in this column or elsewhere in this week's paper but I'm sure you'll enjoy the works of one of our newer prodigies.

I was sorry to hear of the passing of two gentlemen in the area, over the past few weeks. Aubrey Lytle and Bill Marsh. Sympathy is extended to family and friends at this time of sorrow.

I was sorry too, to hear "Syd" Culpis is back in hospital after her heart surgery. Get well soon "Syd", we sure miss you at bingo.

Gertie Crichton is under the weather again and we hope to see you soon again Gertie.

Happy birthday, Pearl Bradimore, on January 23.

The following is another recipe from the Harbour Grace book and is called: Tomato Pickles: 1 tin tomatoes, 2 - 3 apples, 2 - 3 large onions, ¼ tsp. pepper, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup vinegar, 2 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. mixed pickling spices. Chop apples and onions small; add remaining ingredients and cook ¾ hour. Pour into jars. This would be a good recipe for pickle lovers as you can get the ingredients all year round.

I've received a number of comments about the Poke Cake, in last week's issue and Win Wilson says she used to make this cake some years back. She used an ice pick to poke the holes and poured the jelly over it and she said it's a very nice tasting cake and very pretty too. I hope you're feeling better by now, Albert Crego.

The jackpot did not go at Kinmount Legion Friday night, January 16 so come on out and try your luck.

Betty and John Lonsdale, Bill and Win Wilson, Ruby Schell and Father Brooks enjoyed a roast beef dinner at the home of Joyce and Jack Hills at RR1, Kinmount on Friday, January 16. The evening was spent, after dinner, playing euchre and it was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Stanhope Notes

by Alex Stevenson

Stanhope Township Council approved of a move initiated by past and present members of the fire department to turn over funds, raised by donation and various events, for the purchase of "Jaws of Life" equipment for use in this area. As is generally known, this equipment may be useful in saving lives of victims trapped in vehicles or in other circumstances, and area firemen have looked forward to the day when such equipment would be available for rescue work. Approximately $2500 was in the fund, and by a joint decision of the past and present members who had a part in the fund-raising efforts it was decided to present the money to the Haliburton County Jaws of Life fund. This together with the money raised by Dysart firemen will bring the goal nearer to realization and Haliburton County may yet have a valuable piece of disaster equipment.

Stanhope Fun Day came up for discussion at township council and the need for earlier planning for the event was agreed upon. It was pointed out that past experience indicated the need for earlier preliminary arrangements would be best served by the immediate appointment of a chairman and a small steering committee. Consequently Mrs. Ann Barker was asked to again serve as chairman (or chairperson - Ann does not let the title worry her) and was authorized to seek any three people to serve on the steering committee to assist in the early planning.

Later the various township committees will be involved as in the past, through their appointees to the Stanhope Day Committee. The date decided on for the event is July 25, 1981, and there is no doubt that a strenuous effort will go into making the day bigger and better, and also keeping it free - other than the cost of food and refreshments.

Monday, January 19, 1981 is the official day for the commencement of the work restoring the Big Hawk Lake log chute. A small amount of work has been done preparing the site for the start of the work and material and equipment is now arriving. The work is hard and winter conditions add to the difficulties, but this is the most suitable season in view of the need to control the flow of water through the gorge in which the chute is located.

yokes are made to fit each animal individually to get the best results. It was moreover of interest to see how these creatures were really out to please their masters by digging in their rear hoofs and then straining. Other things being as good, enough oxen would be the answer to our energy shortage. It may be well if Prime Minister Trudeau could see this film.

We thought that the creation-evolution argument was long past and won by the latter, but alas they are at it again, but this time seeking only equal teaching time in school. No one wants another monkey trial, though how the monkey got involved is difficult to understand.

Leonard Millburn has been discharged from extendicare to be in institutional care in Peterborough. The Happy Gang wish him the best.

Walter Duffy of Kinmount was added to our numbers on Wednesday, the announcement of which was delayed a bit. He is a nice chap and should contribute much to our activities.

Wilberforce News

by Winnie Schofield

Early Sunday morning of January 18 Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ridout were aroused from their sleep by their dog who alerted them to the fact that their house was ablaze. There was not time to pick up any possessions and they escaped with a minimum of clothing. Their log cabin was on Rock Lake where there is no telephone system so they had to make their way to the home of Sam Rivers, on Highway 121 before they could contact the Monmouth Fire Department. There was no hope of saving anything and the place was burned to the ground. The couple left for Toronto wearing articles of clothing supplied by the Rivers family.

This was the third house lost in a fire in eight days. The first being the most tragic when Alberta White was unable to escape from the building. Two days later the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Riel was destroyed by fire. This took place in Gooderham. The Riels have always been considered Tory Hill folks as they lived in that area for many years and still have in their possession a small house in Tory Hill. However, they lost all their household furnishings and their friends are planning a benefit evening for them. Shirley Stamp, Caroline Andrus and Pearl Foster will be holding a shower in aid of the Riel family at the Tory Hill school house on Tuesday, January 27 beginning at 8 p.m. Household goods are requested. The South Algonquin Kinsmen, who help fire victims, have been talking over plans that may include a dance at Gooderham. Of course the local Red Cross branch will be helping the unfortunate family with bedding. If you are unable to attend shower, leave articles at home of any of the ladies listed above.

Last fall the pottery classes held at the home of Donna Legge of Harcourt were well attended with an enthusiastic group who were able to proudly display in their homes, hand-crafted articles such as vases and other receptacles beautifully ornamented.

Classes have begun again and are held every Thursday evening at 7:30. You will find this a fascinating hobby and well worth your time and effort. There will be molds available for decorating and completing or you can do your own thing and make your own molds. This is one of the Sir Sandford Fleming courses. Call Donna Legge for more information at 448-2549.

The Royal Canadian Legion Branch 624 held a fish derby on Saturday past and were very happy with the number of contestants, close to 50 persons registered. The day was special with bright sunshine and everyone in good spirits. The results of day found Perry Simmons of Irondale with the prize catch and winner of first, a rod and reel. Second place winner was Ted (Shag) Freeman who received $20 and coming up third was Mike Fitzsimmons of Harcourt whose prize was $10. A hootnanny in the evening at the Legion Hall was a successful event.

A big weekend happening was the telethon in aid of those afflicted with cerebral palsy. Everyone for miles around went all out to assist in this project and the results were encouraging indeed. The Wilberforce Veneer Company supplied two telephones and their office, The Linkert's Bakery kept all the workers supplied with doughnuts while Agnew's Red and White Store saw that plenty of coffee was available. Many people spent hours manning the telephones, members of the Kinsmen and others doing the midnight till dawn shift. Calls came in from as far away as Minden as the whole of Haliburton County responded to the call for help that was broadcast across the North American continent. The amount realized from this section was $2,459.30. I don't know just how the 30 cents got in there. Probably some child's allowance. Roberta Walsh who did a splendid job of supervising and organizing is very grateful to the many who made this a story of caring for others.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

What a change in the weather. I wonder if this is our January thaw. At least we aren't getting the bad snow storms that the Maritimes are getting. Three bad ones in seven days in an area that usually has very little snow is rather hard on them. Oh well, into everyone's lives a little snow must fall!

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Kellett of Sutton visited with Mrs. Gladys Wruth over the weekend.

Don't forget that Minden Play School is sponsoring skating every Thursday afternoon from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. at the arena.

It has always been said that swimming is good for the figure. If that is so how does one explain the whale?

The mini card parties are held every Thursday afternoon at St. Paul's Parish Hall and the winners last week were for cribbage - Lil Porter and Joyce Hewitt. Euchre - lone hands, Marge McAfee on a cut; Verna McDonald on a cut; Johann Beattie.

Highland Homestead Plumbing has moved into the new building beside the IGA store.

Save all the liquid your vegetables are cooked in as well as any left over vegetables. Store these, in a jar in the freezer until you have enough for some homemade soup.

David Dufty has been accepted into the Canadian Armed Forces and has left for Cornwallis, N.S. for basic training.

The Library-Culture Centre donations may now be sent to Box 648, Minden. At a meeting last week the committee were very hopeful that the new building will be in use before the spring season is over, but donations are still needed to help complete the inside of the building.

Tamale Loaf - ⅓ cup shortening; 1 medium onion; 2 cups ground beef; 1 can tomatoes; 1 cup cornmeal; 2 eggs; 1 tsp. salt; 1 tsp. paprika; 1 tsp. black pepper or chili powder; 1 can cream corn. Fry onion and meat in shortening. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Bake in a greased loaf pan in 350 degree oven for 30 minutes.

Mae's Country Mart are starting a 2nd Chance Draw for their customers who buy Wintario tickets at their store but do not win in the lottery. Every Friday you will have a second chance on some prize, as that is when the draw will be made. They have a big jar for the tickets so everyone will have a chance.

In case you are wondering, Highland Jewellery and China Shop will be open only on Thursday, Friday and Saturday for the winter months.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Bunker on the weekend were Mrs. Vi Jones and friend of Unionville and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bunker of Pine Springs.

The Martha Group of the Minden UCW will meet in the church hall on Wednesday, January 28 at 2 p.m. All ladies welcome.

Over 30 children enjoyed the movies at the fire hall last Saturday afternoon and will be pleased to know that more movies will be shown at the firehall on Saturday afternoon, February 14 from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Adios and take care now.

Dorset News

"They say you can't take it with you, but it is nice to know that there is one place you can go without it."

I see the fish huts have started to dot the ice. We haven't heard any reports yet, but hope the fishermen are having some luck. It's a sure sign that winter is here when you see the huts out. Of course, we have had other signs and conditions to make us aware of it. It's nice to have a respite from the deep freeze and I'm sure that everyone is hoping that it will continue with milder temperatures.

Even the bluejays were affected by the extreme cold, or at least we blamed it on that having no other answer. Several people had the birds die at the bird feeder. They became stumbly and ruffled their feathers, or put their head under their wing and died. We have wondered if other people in the area had any experiences of this kind, and also if anyone has any suggestions as to some other cause for the jays dying besides the extreme cold. I have heard personally of five birds dying in the area. The other birds did not seem to be affected.

The Dorset Senior Club held their first general meeting of the new year last Wednesday with a pot luck luncheon and business meeting. The meeting was well attended and plans were made for the winter months which should make for interesting meetings. The club rooms will be open each Tuesday for drop-ins with shuffle board, ping pong, scrabble, card games or just visiting or doing hand work. The men are still busy with finishing up work to be done in the basement, but the upstairs room is beautiful with the addition finished and wall to wall carpeting.

And we have some belated birthday wishes to pass along. Agnes Little on December 17, Don Little, January 6, Sybil Dinsdale, January 7 and Marg Walkden on January 18. Many more years of happiness to one and all. If you wish to have a friend's or family member's birthday mentioned just call me at 766-2237. I have to receive news by early Saturday to get into the next week's paper, so call me with any news.

H.H. To keep snow from sticking to your shovel just apply a thin coat of melted paraffin or paste floor wax to it. It makes snow removal much easier.

- Intended for last week -

"Never feel that a kind word is lost. It keeps going on and on, from one person to another, until at last it comes back again to you."

The bitter cold weather we experienced during and prior to last weekend played havoc with water systems, oil lines in furnaces and, of course, automobiles. The Dorset Garage was swamped with calls to get cars started, and the two mechanics on duty were run ragged but couldn't answer all the calls as soon as they were made. Many people from other areas, who were just up to their cottage from the holiday, left their cars parked where they were as they couldn't get them started, and brought their keys into the garage, with instructions to Len and Ron to get them started when they could. Many social activities had to be cancelled as did the Dorset Senior Club meetings but they are back in action again to start a new and active year.

The Lions Bingo on Monday night was well attended for the first night and we are hoping that people will continue to come out so they won't get discouraged and close up again. It is a pleasant and inexpensive evening out.

My apologies to Hector and Marcella McKay. January 7 was their 48th wedding anniversary and not the 47th. Getting close to that golden one, eh what?

A couple of ladies have birthdays this week. Mrs. Hazel Sears on the 14th and Mrs. Joyce McKey celebrates on the 15th. Congratulations to you both.

We had some visitors from Florida in the village over the holiday period. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Singer, Gloria Morris' parents, visited Gloria, Ted and their family after spending some time in Aurora with another daughter. What a change after leaving their home in Lehigh Acres, Fla. and then experiencing 40 below zero weather here. They said they enjoyed their stay in the frigid north but I'm sure were glad to get back to the sunny south.

Miss Ruth Tinkis of Bracebridge visited with Mrs. Ruth McLennan over the holidays. Ruth is known to quite a number of people in the area.

Our local bank is open only on Mondays from 10 to one during the winter months, so everyone congregates there sometime during the month and you get to see your neighbours. It is always interesting to see Mrs. Ruth McLennan, who teaches kindergarten and grades one and two, with her pupils with bank books clutched in their little hands, there to make their deposits. Ruth has made them aware of the fact that if they save a little of their spending money each week they will eventually have enough to buy something they want. She has taught them to make out their own deposit slips and since this program began in September they received their first interest in October. Admittedly, it wasn't very much, but the children saw that their money would grow if they left it in the bank. What a nice way for the children to learn something of economic values, with which life is involved.

H.H. Coarsely shred raw carrots over frozen peas or beans in saucepan. Cook in the usual way. This adds color and tastes good, too.

Coboconk News

by Shiela Lake

Congratulations to Flo Cruickshanks and Harold Alton who were wed today, Saturday, January 17, 1981. The wedding took place at 4 o'clock in the groom's home, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Arthur Bartlett. Attendants for the bride and groom were Ida and Clyde Pardy of Coboconk. The wedding dinner was served in the groom's home and their family all were in attendance. They are Harold's family, Don, Kathy and Charlie Alton of Coboconk. David and Yvonne Alton of Guilford. Flo's family are Grace and Randy King, their children Robbie and Rochelle of Lindsay; Bob Cruickshanks of Toronto; her brother Frank Freeman of Scarborough, her sister Marion Bingham of Toronto; her sister and hubby John and Hazel Blackburn of Stayner. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Alton!

It was a shock to the community to learn of the sudden passing of Aubrey Lytle near his home on North Bay Drive or the old portion of Highway 48 that follows Balsam Lake on the north side. Aubrey was found dead in his car early on Wednesday morning. Our sincere sympathy to his family.

Ross Faulkner is coming along very well in Toronto General Hospital.

Sorry to hear our reeve's wife is ill in Toronto. Mrs. Maurice Watson, or Roma to all who know her is in a Toronto hospital for treatment. Get well soon, Roma!

Mrs. Cora Lake celebrated her 81st birthday on January 14 and enjoyed a special dinner at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Switzer, just south of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lechie of Lindsay visited Mrs. Mary Limrick last week.

I suppose you saw the T.V. news over channel 12 Peterborough on Wednesday where the attempted robbery at Norland Red and White store, Norland, was thwathed by a really smart guard dog. The dog held the robbers at bay until police came and captured the culprits.

Very cold weather persists with thermometer at 15 below zero at eight this morning. You lucky ones who are away from this severe winter!

Harcourt News

The Christmas season brought several functions to the Harcourt Community centre. A large crowd attended the Martin mill and logging company and union dinner and dance on November 29. The staff of Martin Lumber Company got together with their counterparts from Kirkland, Eganville and the two Tweed divisions for a Christmas dinner in early December. Following dinner, musical entertainment and skits were presented by the staff members. The Murphys provided music for dancing.

The Harcourt ladies committee held a turkey bingo on December 3. The Highland Crossroads family and ladies committee provided a Christmas party of films and goodies for the youngsters of the village.

A good crowd braved the cold of New Year's eve to enjoy dancing and a buffet lunch at the community centre.

Those wishing to make unusual Christmas gifts for their friends were able to participate in a two-day course taught by one of our local craftsman. Danny Eriksen, under the auspices of Sir Sandford Fleming College taught stained glass cutting to make glass hangings. Danny is active in making Tiffany lamps also.

Friends of Sonny Pacey will be interested to hear that he had surgery last week in Peterborough Civic hospital and is hoping to return to the community soon.

The ratepayers meeting was held on January 11. Business from the minutes of the last meeting noted that contributions to the community centre are tax deductible and receipts will be issued to those wishing same. Murray Fearrey gave a breakdown of the tax dollars acquired in Harcourt Township and money spent within the township. His explanation indicated that Harcourt Township area is getting an adequate share of their tax dollar.

Problems with careless disposal of garbage at the municipal dump were discussed. Harold Bannon noted that this is a common problem and difficult to supervise. Council proposed that signs be posted indicating that fines will be levied against offenders.

Weaving Overshot in block squares. As the group will receive the use of a 100 inch loom for the entire year of 1982, the group are planning on making a coverlet.

This is the project for this year in preparation for the 100 inch loom.

The members of the weaving group are also experimenting in the spinning of natural wools.

Esther Lee an active member of the group who also has her own sheep, has kindly donated a fleese for the group's first undertaking. As there are five different types of wool on one fleese. Esther will instruct the group in preparation for spinning. Sir Sandford Fleming has extended the use of the wheels to the group, with those that are broken being repaired by group member Taylor Wilkinson. This sounds as if it will be an interesting and exciting venture.

The Pottery Group will begin its classes the week of February 26. We welcome all new and old members, classes are Monday evening, Wednesday and Wednesday night. For further information call Carole McLean 457-1795.

Stanhope Notes

of the roads, calls for some enquiry as to how this came about. Was no one at the ministry level aware of the high PCB level in the road oil? Will any effort be made to determine who is responsible for PCB being present in the oil? What purpose does PCB serve in road oil that would justify its being in the oil? It is our hope that there will be an inquiry into this matter so that it can be explained why and how this pollutant was present in quantities away beyond the tolerable limit of safety, and it should be pursued in such a manner that the chance of such an occurrence happening again will be out of the question. Enquiries of Stanhope Township officials provided the information that Stanhope has not used oil on the roads for two years. This is reassuring to all who are concerned with the quality of our waters and the health of humans and aquatic life.

Senior League

by Linda English

The week began with our regular activities. We had a good time at fun and fitness exercising our bodies to some lively music on Monday morning. Later on, the ladies went to the craftroom to work on their projects. We have now started making a quilt, which will be very interesting for many of our ladies.

Tuesday morning Rev. Wicks of the Minden Gospel Church held an inspiring service in the chapel. Agnes Taylor and her friend Barbara were here to lead in the singing of some favourite hymns. In the evening, several residents gathered in the main lounge to be entertained by Bill Payne and Eldon Deacon. The residents thoroughly enjoyed their singing and antics. Our thanks to these people for a most enjoyable evening.

Wednesday evening, the students from Haliburton high school were here to assist in games night. Our residents have missed seeing these fine young people over the Christmas holidays, and were very pleased to have them back. Thanks to the students and auxiliary members, games night has been very successful and the residents look forward to a fun evening of games every week.

The Kinettes of Minden brought an assortment of tea breads and cheese for the Thursday tea party. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the lunch. The Kinsmen came later in the evening to call the numbers for bingo. We had quite a few lucky winners, and everyone had a very nice time.

Lieut. and Mrs. Mailman and their son Michael of the Salvation Army in Haliburton came to lead the sing song on Friday afternoon. We sang some old favourite gospel hymns and enjoyed the message given by Mrs. Mailman. The puppet "Andy" came along with them, and as usual had a few things to say. We always enjoy the visits from the Salvation Army and we will look forward to seeing them again real soon.

Snowdon News

The newly formed Group "Snowdon Supporters" held their monthly meeting on Monday evening January 12, 1981.

This group was formed to develop opportunities, and to create an atmosphere of support for the people within the community.

The group's pilot project was to develop cross country ski trails with the assistance of the winter works program.

The grant was accepted and work commenced on the trails, January 12. It is anticipated that these trails will bring enjoyment to the citizens of the township and prove to be an attraction to tourists.

A Snowdon Township map will be available shortly indicating ski trail locations and other points of interest.

Another project underway is a Valentine dance to be held February 14 at Gelert Garden's Restaurant. A limited number of tickets are available at Lochlin Store, Gelert Gardens, and Fred Simmons in Irondale.

Everyone is invited to attend the next meeting which will be held at Gelert Community Centre, Monday, February 16 at 7:30 p.m.

Harcourt

The new members of the Harcourt Recreation and Community centre committee were appointed. They are Ken Langille, Kim Martin, Frank Packard and Bill Smith. Marlene Main has agreed to stay as secretary-treasurer. Council members indicated that they would come to hall board meetings if the Harcourt members felt it was necessary.

Ann Meharrie submitted her resignation as president of the ladies committee. Ann has been president for four years and has always been a hard working member.

Snowmobilers, watch for news of the snowmobile rally on February 28.

Along the trails

and from the Niagara Peninsula to Sault Ste. Marie and beyond.

The new trails will be designated as snow trails and will be marked with the official trail signs adopted by Ontario and distributed through the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs' sign program. The trail blazers used (commonly called assurance markers) will be retroreflective and will bear the identification logo SNO 1, SNO 2, etc. Plans are now well advanced for the early development of trails through SNO 6 and at least one of these additional routes will be opened later this winter.

Your local snowmobile clubs, the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association and the Paudash Trail Blazers are working now to complete their respective sections of SNO 5. Other clubs involved are the Sommerville and District Snowmobile Association (Burnt River) in whose area the trail will intersect with SNO 1, the Maple Leaf Snow Skimmers, the Peterson Pathfinders, as well as clubs at Eganville, Golden Lake and Pembroke. The official opening is tentatively scheduled for February 28.

The planning of all six major routes was done by the Ontario Federation, in cooperation with snowmobile clubs with careful attention to such factors as accessability from population centres, availability of food, fuel and accommodations, and the continuity of routes through neighbouring tourist regions. Additional shorter routes which will complete the overall trail grid are also planned and two of these will be of interest to local snowmobilers. One will run from the Minden area to Muskoka, designated SNO 2/5 since it will connect those two major trails, the other from the Harcourt area to the Havelock trails, designated SNO 1/5.

The Longer Ride

While long-range snowmobiling has been possible for several years, the security of proper marking and mapping was sadly lacking. The long ride was appealing only to the more adventurous. The development of a public trail grid with uniform marking makes the longer ride practical. Let us take a brief look at some emerging possibilities. For these projected trips we'll start at my house at Donald.

Ride #1. Two days, possible in one for hardy riders: Ride east through Tory Hill and Wilberforce to junction with Paudash trail. Turn south to Rathburn Trail and Anstruther Trial. Through Apsley to Nephton Trail to intersection SNO 1 at Stoney Lake. Turn west and follow SNO 1 to Young's Point or Buckhorn for overnight stop. Turn north on SNO 5 at Burnt River and back to Minden. Ride home. Several shorter variations of this trip would use the MNR Five Point Trail System. Examples: Entry at Gooderham, exit at Burnt River, or entry from Paudash, exit at Gooderham.

Ride #2. Four days estimated minimum. Ride east on SNO 5 to Pembroke area intersection with SNO 6. Ride south-east to SNO 1/6 in Arnprior area, then south-west to SNO 1 Kaladar region. SNO 1 and SNO 5 brings you home. Note: Plan this ride for next year. The trails are not signed yet.

Ride #3. Three days? Utilize SNO 5 and SNO 1 to reach huronia and intersection SNO 2. Ride North to Muskoka and return SNO 2/5 to Minden. This is another trip for the future. It is possible now but the official signs are not up.

dance to wind up the day.

February 20, 21 and 22 brings us to the Haliburton Winter Carnival and once again the parade, bed races, carnival queen contest and the big carnival ball will be features. The ice sculpture contest, torch light snowmobile parade and a ski tour are also popular aspects of the weekend.

The Guild of Fine Arts will be running their carnival exhibition and sale right through from carnival weekend to the following weekend at the Rails' End Gallery. Whether you're buying or browsing it's worth a trip to the Gallery to view the many fine crafts created by our talented local crafts people.

Another ski tour is taking place in the vicinity of Elephant Lake in Harcourt on March 7. This "Kin Ski Tour" is sponsored by the South Algonquin Kinsmen Club and is also planned as an annual event on their new cross country trails.

If you're not all skied out you may still have enough energy left for a Fun Sky Day at Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Reserve sponsored by the management on March 14. After that you can start thinking spring!

The events listed are the ones we are aware of. If you have one that we missed please let us know. We can't publicize it if we don't know about it.

Come to think of it, the second ode has more concrete nouns than the first, more action verbs, more appeal to the sense, and sharper imagery. Not to mention a great and powerful use of repitition in the opening and closing lines. It's a better poem. But how can it be a better poem if it doesn't rhyme? As R. J. Needham would ask, who once stated publicly that there hadn't been any good poetry written since Tennyson. I told him that was utter nonsense. He agreed. He was just trying to get somebody to say something.

Nah. Winter's not so bad. But my heart sinks when I think that Wilson, the boy next door, is in Grade 12, and will soon be off to college. In the mornings, after a blizzard, I sit quietly drinking my tea and reading my paper until I hear his shovel clanging on the back porch. Then I leave for work, knowing my path and driveway are open. In the summer he cuts my grass. I'm going to ask all his teachers to fail him this year.

The only other solution is to sell the house.
